BATHORY

WHAT THE HELL JUST HAPPENED

I'm sure many of you who have been attentive to the misfortunes that transpired within the nexion known as the Noctulian Blood Covenant are left with numerous unanswered inquiries.

I will eventually get into this, but first, we must glance at the inceptions of the Noctulian Blood Covenant and its chronology to get a full insight. Ultimately, the NBC435 has contained several various pseudo-nyms and prior blood fürhers on its vessel, such as the Noctuluis Moon Covenant, which was systematized and ultimately endorsed under the Tempel ov Blood. Upon this bestowment of NMC - it was then placed under the administration of the former Tempel ov Blood associate formerly known as Dark Gnosis.

Noctuluis Moon Covenant eventually was vacated due to quarrels and skepticism within the collective - which then led to the former associate known to many as Nero or Nachferat, to embark on his own individual prowess - this then conceived what many know as The Bathory Covenant or The Noctulian Blood Covenant.

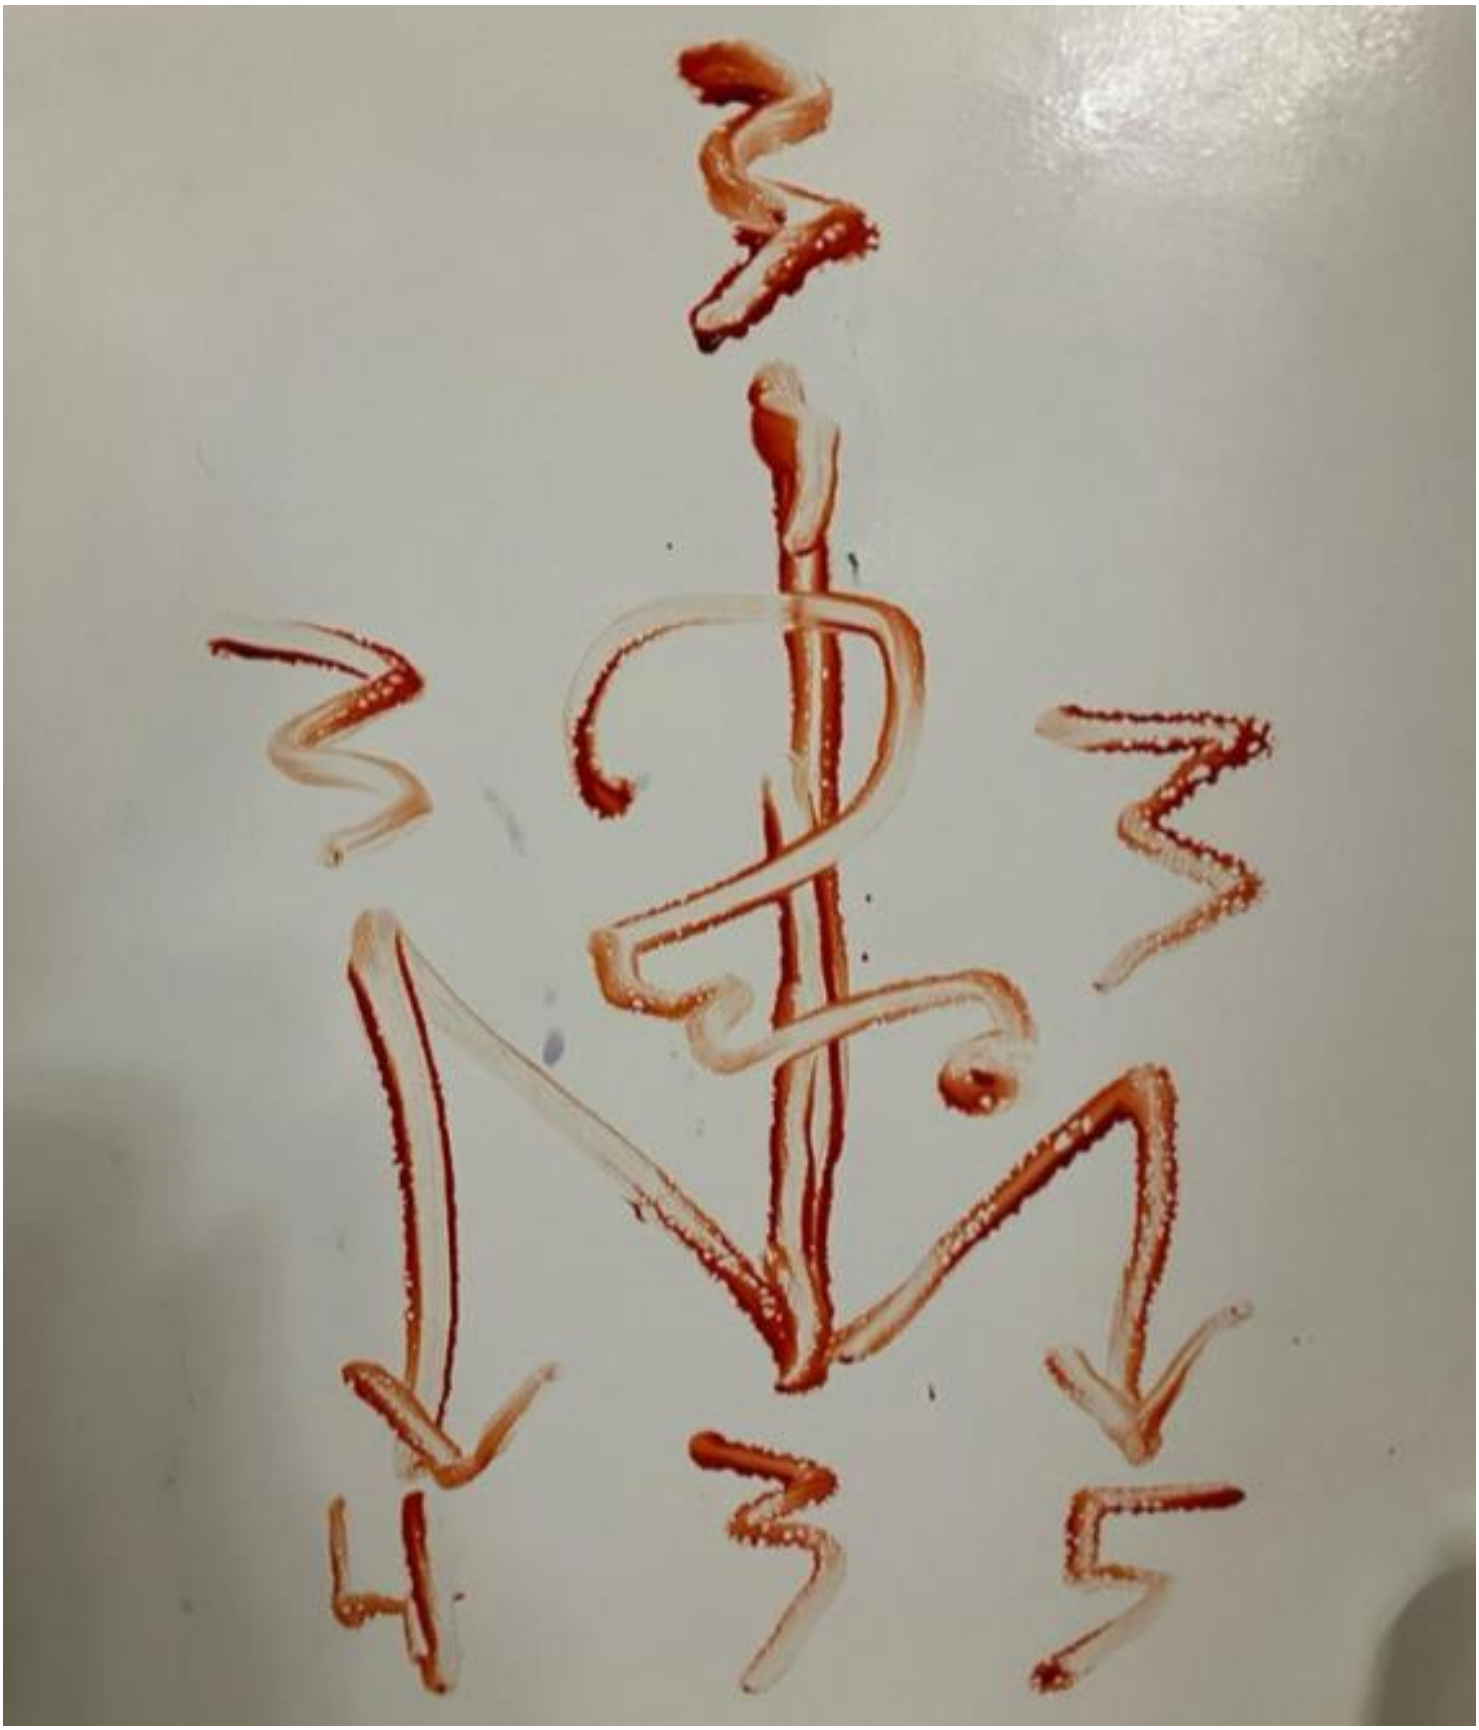
Furthermore, upon assembling the NBC435 - Nero then began to bear an interest in Elizabeth Bathory due to her dismal history and correlation which aligned with the Vampyric Sinstral practice and path.

With his amalgamated fascination with not only the Sinister Tradition but also the Wamphyric practice, and the Blood Countess Bathory - he cultivated and solidified the concept into a practice that undoubtedly had impacts both positive and negative on the individuals who convened an interest in its teachings.

Through the advents of the Noctulian Blood Covenant, it was certainly a promising Nexion - with a set forth objective to venture the SevenFold-Way and Sinister Pilgrimage through dark pragmatic workings of the black path.

I eventually met Nero through the conception of my singular project known as GOREWAFFEN - which entailed bringing forth rare literature under the sinister influence through an online vendor, in which around this time I was contacted by Nero regarding the endeavors of the shop - and as well for potential sponsorship and collaboration between both of our parties.

From there we bolstered a potent camaraderie and friendship, though this would be eventually terminated - due to the falsehoods and pretense I was under whilst following his command and mentorship. Furthermore, the unfolding exposure of his past actions also had some part to play in the combination. So in conclusion, there were numerous reasons why the Noctulian Blood Covenant failed as a Nexion - but I believe mulling over past failures without finding the notion to improve and rectify - ultimately is a feeble characteristic in itself; one shall always seek improvement - even in failure!



A Fresh Slate

A resurgence is a much-needed measure in claiming what has ultimately been tarnished by weakness and dishonest intuitions, and the first stage of action to acquire such a resurgence – is the notion to remove any impurities that the former Noctulian Blood Covenant held to its core beliefs.

Nexion 435 has most definitely held and pushed out numerous questionable convictions and oddities to its fundamentals - which seemed very mundane and rather ineffective - in not only its Magick but also in its essence entirely. Many of the bestowed rites in the prior Noctulian Blood Covenant journals which were titled Corrective Discipline – undoubtedly were lacking in many retrospects.

Furthermore, now that I have claimed authority over the Nexion all prior works are now voided and deemed not related to the current mission that the covenant now holds and plans to carry out, we want to move past such fallacies and establish ourselves on new grounds – grounds of which expand not only our sentiments but as well our numbers – the aim is to establish an underground militia of bloodthirsty operatives who are not only sophisticated in their works but as well grounded with cruelness of reality. The true inheritors of agony – who run steadfastly into the flames of hell.

NOTES TAKEN ON CORRECTIVE DISCIPLINE

Much like the Tempel ov Bloods renowned journal issues known as “False Prophet” had an extensive amount of influence in the conception of the issues of the Noctulian Blood Covenants' very own journal titled Corrective Discipline.

Now as stated before, the previous issues of Corrective Discipline no longer uphold to the current standards and objectives of the current wave of the nexion; but that doesn’t mean they carry no significance at all, the journals undoubtedly give insight into what the foundation ultimately was. Furthermore, understanding the history of the nexion holds a lot of importance as well, not only to the aspiring recruits but also to those who find authentic interest in its teachings, of course, every Nexion is going to have its own set beliefs and approach to the Sinister – it is surely not a one size fits all scenario, and that’s exactly what I feel about Corrective Discipline, hearing from many critics; both constructive and from points of ridicule I believe if there are any future issues of Corrective Discipline it will ultimately be satisfactorily to the current taste of my own but as well to those whom find interest in the forbidden teachings of 435.

In conclusion, I recommend to those who harbor an interest in the Noctulian Blood Covenant to definitely pick up the source material of our nexions former zines which are currently in both print and pdf format; if you so hold a taste for the Blood Reichs infernal teachings.

A NOCTULIAN CRAVES DISCIPLINE

The Commandant

The blood-soaked forlorn lands and skies of dense black smog that emitted from the drudgeries of the war stood accompanied by the sight of the brutalist military penitentiary.

The penitentiary command stood with towering barricades that were intertwined in razor wire like a knot of serpents - that was drenched in the blood of the attempted escapees. The camp was as well - confined by guard towers - which each accommodated an armed correctional officer.

The sounds of agony and desperation to get out of this factory of death were often heard through the lifeless silence of twilight, which has been said by those who inhabit the death camp to echo throughout the catacombs of not only the earth but also hell.

Amongst the field of remains and rubble stood sallow - the Commandant, with a sadistic smile and a tattered grey wool uniform that had been doused in the blood of those of whom he had afflicted his wrathful judgment.

He ambled over mangled corpses with loud clanking steps, in which his tall black leather jump boots emitted upon each amble footstep.

Through his customary patrol and overseeing - his boot was abruptly grasped by the weak slender hand of drooling insolences of the skeletal POWs - which began to trickle against the boot of the Commandant. Sickened by such a scenery he commenced to take his military-issued boot and plunge the rigid soles into the faces of the weakened prisoners until their heads were turned to mush.

In his frenzy and psychopathic rage - his face was obscured by demonic veneers, which spoke volumes and brought fear to not only the POWs but also the other guards and correctional workers. In this beckoning hell - the prisoners of war would witness the Commandant's unbridled blood thirst, only begging and yearning for the sweet release of death to end their anguish.

Trauma Based Programming

The destruction of embedded morals is not an overnight and done operation. There are tiers to induce the aspiring Satanist to initiate the deprivation process of moral constraints.

Over the years of satanism, there have been numerous literary works that assist in inducing the reader into topics that are typically against what is commonly not acceptable in societal norms. These rather forbidden taboos captivate the reader into pushing their mundane boundaries, ultimately achieving a mind-altering moment of frenzy induced trauma.

By engrossing ourselves in this way of moral destruction, we begin to awaken the dark forces that dwell amongst us, that forever feed on our self-induced traumas.

SYSTEMATIC TORTURE AND ITS TIERS

TIER I

Mind-altering synopses via literature of depraved topics

- Exploration of psychological manipulation in dystopian literature.

- Analysis of themes surrounding addiction and obsession in novels.

- Examination of identity crises in characters facing societal decay.

- Study of moral ambiguity through complex character interactions.

- Review of existentialism in works portraying despair and hopelessness.

TIER II

Self-induced deprivation through the dismantling of relationships

- Investigation of emotional detachment and its effects on personal happiness.

- Reflection on toxic relationships as a source of self-sabotage.

- Analysis of loneliness as a form of self-imposed deprivation.

- Exploration of the impact of communication breakdowns on relationship dynamics.

- Review of themes in literature that highlight the cycle of isolation and disconnection.

TIER III

Self-induced physical traumas through pain, terror, drugs, and illusion

- Analysis of the psychological effects of self-harm in contemporary literature.

- Exploration of substance abuse as a means of escape and its consequences.

- Examination of fear and trauma in characters' lives leading to destructive behaviors.

- Study of the interplay between reality and hallucination in narratives.

- Review of narratives where physical pain mirrors emotional suffering.

The Sinister Tradition

It is most certain that our Sinister Tradition has been ultimately hijacked by the common pseudo-satanist and average virgin incel 4chan basement dweller type.

Many of these individuals have essentially become the cancers of the sinister by over-saturating the ONA with mundane and childish encrypted chats and online forum boards dedicated towards simple social gathering rather than being a real-life evil force.

What had ultimately once been a traditional, philosophical, and most of all Satanic approach to life has now been besieged by online degenerative losers with no real-life social skills, ultimately adventure is absent from their minds and Is now occupied by the next “trend” and who can spam the most forums – it is no wonder why so many traditional nexions have either disbanded or have gone underground due to such mishaps.

To my personal beliefs, I point the blame at both the parents and M.O.R.G that places individuals such as these types to discredit the Order of Nine Angles to ultimately turn it into an unserious daycare that holds no value to its traditional customs. Combating such attempts at discredit is nearly impossible simply due to the influx of degenerative individuals and the MORG's unlimited resources they utilize to place such individuals

If we can't combat it? Then what can we do?

Well… nothing.

That's the prickly part of it, all you can do is watch the ship sink essentially in a matter such as this – but at the end of the day the sinister practitioner knows their tradition, and they will continue to embark on their very own dark pilgrimage, essentially ignoring it is the best choice of action; by cutting out the background noise there will no longer be that annoyance or distraction.

While those individuals remain chronically online you shall obtain real-life goals, and ultimately achieve them, because truly that's what being a Satanist is all about.

Strive ever for more, for conquest is never done.

The Sinister Jihad

Many of self-proclaimed “Satanists” truly live their lives in fear of not only death but any actual conflict, this is what ultimately shows the lack of genuine satanic character and Vampyric will.

Opinions aside from the Abrahamic religion Islam - one must contest and respect the jihadic culture and willingness to die for their beliefs, this is truly a way we as Traditional Satanist shall thrive and live - Satan seeks those who are willing and strong in their beliefs; and to live by this Devotion is truly a courageous act and sign of determination to the dark father himself.

Satanism in itself is a path full of imperilment, even life risking one’s and we must be prepared and willing to lay down our lives and blood because we are simply not of the likings of the weak shackled sheep that fall victim to fear of the inevitable, we are Jihads of our Sinister Nature.

In my eyes you cannot kill what is already undead, we live off the rush that life provides- Of course I’m not telling anyone to throw their lives away but I am merely making the statement that you must be prepared to lay down everything in this line of work. If you are not willing to sacrifice, then you’re in the wrong profession!

NOCTULIAN BLOOD COVENANT

SUB SIGNIUM NOCTULIUS

The wamphyric path is one of the most dangerous and horrid forms to aspire to. You must shear away all aspects of your self. Destroy your identity and eliminate your humanity. This is important as the aspects of lowly humanity when faced with the noctulian wamphyric entities and dark gods cannot coexist. The lowly mundane food source faced with the undead is sucked dry of its acausal essence and the fragile moralist human mind is shattered resulting in madness and emptiness, a state of perpetual victimhood. Some of the most useful tactics utilized by the noctulian is self flagellation, self cutting and blood drawing, sinister chant, as well as desensitization practices such as viewing gore, studying macabre or heretical subjects, criminal activity, indulgence in a drug you are afraid to try amongst other methods.

Becoming analogous to the dark wamphyric entites that hunt and feast on the animated life force and blood essence of the lowly mundane is not an overnight and done operation. No, becoming a terror incarnation in the flesh takes time and experience, and lots of it – indulgence is ultimately the key, the key to dissolving the moral compass that has been instilled in us via the MORG and mundane societal indoctrination. We as Noctulians must be rid of this moral falsehood, and instead embrace being limitless in our morals, no limits, all evil, hell on earth scenario.

We are the horrors of humanity and the nocturnal predators who lurk in your places of worship, neighborhoods, and homes, we are everywhere!

Hatred is our supernal power, and it is that of a blade crafted from that gnawing feeling that churns your stomach and makes your blood boil, a dark awakening of which releases the dark forces that tear through your feeble flesh to set free the ominous forces from within, it is a blade made of the serpents tongue and fang – awaiting to strike on the magian and mundane herd.

We are the poison that infects the ever-flowing streams.

The Dark Mothers

Hidden away deep within the woodlands of Belgium, lies a castle of unspeakable horrors - Chateau Des Amerois or “The Mother of Darkness Castle” exists as the soil of not only enigma but as well truly sinister breeding grounds - consequently it has been speculated that the castle of horrors is the birthplace and housing of many nefarious groups or secret societies, such as the ravenous Illuminati and coven of witches. Since 1849 the soils of Chateau Des Amerois have remained a dark and grim dwelling drenched in the blood of young women who have fallen victim to the inhabitants of the castle - the mothers of darkness, It has been conveyed throughout the years that this witch's coven has aimed and carried out several Satanic rituals and abductions, ultimately making the shrouding grounds alluring and rather mysterious to those who seek out its devilish past.

This demonic panorama that swathes the supernal grounds is due to the years of over-mongering satanic influence that the forlorn landscape holds in both its insidious past and present. This predatory behavior of those who inhabited the dark castle remained an urban legend in the surrounding area - which has ultimately caused the castle to be exiled from the general public due to its dismal history and reoccurring disappearances of those who dared to interfere with its presence.

Through the works and craftsmanship of Satan, he birthed kin of our sinister breed whose purposes were to carry out and cause paranoia among the masses, to accomplish so they were then bestowed the knowledge of their hidden supernal abilities of what is now commonly deemed as black magick or witchcraft to be used as tools of invocation to obtain and spread the infernal gospel. Though in modern times the concept of what makes a witch has become tainted by false narratives of Wicca's influence - essentially claiming that having a crystal collection and a basic understanding of astrology is what makes them a part of the witch's coven, which in itself is utterly fatuous fakery and mere role-playing.

Ultimately, the true kin of Satan remains in the ravenous camouflage amongst their masses, forever evolving into formidable beings who wouldn't be expected or pinpointed by those who condemn their very existence.

The Dark Mothers embody this synopsis of disguise and exemplar of what one should strive for in their dark pilgrimage to become a sinister entity of the drakon coven - upon this blighted enlightenment, one shall assume the grueling task and distribute the devil's chaotic madness and bring forth the umbral plague to the light mythos - to inaugurate his infernal kingdom on earth as it is in hell.

Through a world of a darkened state, shed an ominous moon to seize a glimpse of the nocturnal predators whom reside in the shadow of death, to forever hunt upon the clergymen who embed themselves in unclarity of their sinful natures, forever we shall feast, and feast we shall...

The Dark Gods want blood. your blood!

Blood shows determination and sacrifice, the self-culling of one's self physically is devotional not only to the Sinistral path but as well to the Vampyric dark gods themselves. Most notably, Shugara is the devourer of blood, but the choice of dark god is ultimately yours when it comes to self-culling and opfering of ones flesh.

When initiating or invoking the Dark Gods; engrave their assigned sigil on either parchment paper or a higher quality vintage paper, the sigil can be drawn in blood or covered, your choice. Bathory

According to the sinister there are three main types of specific nexions, in simplistic terms, you have the first type of nexion which is the physical adaptation, the second being the living causal being, such as ourselves. And finally the third type of nexion is ultimately the magickal creation, that is therefor some form in which acausal energy is presenced or tapped into by the the sinister adept.

In the Noctulian Blood Covenant we lean towards the causal existence of the blood countess Elizabeth Bathory, who was known to feed on the blood of young women – she was as well known to take pleasure in carrying out her sadistic fantasies on the unfortunate souls who unluckily ended up in the hands of the dark mother herself.

For example, the use of the traditional numerology utilized in the Noctulian Blood Covenant, such as 435 - which stems from the Vampyric coven of Ecsed, which was the count of years of creation of the noble house that harbored Bathory and the damned souls slain by her hand, it as well can be simplified down into theconception of “Vampyric Cult of Escede. This physical location is considered the physical beacon and sinister grounds of Nexion 435.

Furthermore, we among the Noctulian Blood Covenant are the original Bathorian Covenant, anyone else posturing to be us or claiming to be the original bathorian coven is utterly erroneous – we are not against other Nexions based on Bathory, but we are against those who claim to be the original coven of the blood countess.

Noctulian Blood Covenant: the cult of Báthori Erzsébet

While it is true that we take much inspiration from The Tempel Ov Blood, Drakon Covenant, Coven Nachttoter, White Star Acception ect... As a wamphyric/noctulian nexion we have our own rites and practices inspired by Elizabeth Bathory De Escede.

The countess Bathory was a noble woman of Hungary from the house of Escede. She owned much of Transylvania and the surrounding Carpathian lands. It had been noted by those who saw her that she possessed an unnatural yet sinister allure and beauty. When she was around 15 years old one of her uncles instructed her in the mysteries of Satanism while around the same time her aunt instructed her in the Noctulian tradition of sadomasochism. At around 15 she was married to the Count Nádasdy and the couple settled into Csejthe Castle. To please his wife, her husband reportedly built a torture chamber to her sinister desires.

It is said that upon punishment of a servant girl, she had gotten the virginal blood on her flesh. Bathory believed the purity of this virginal blood drew into her flesh making her younger and more beautiful. This is what lead to the infamous killing spree she is so well known for.

She sent servants out to procure more virgins under the guise of working for her but in the end they faced many sinister and sadistic methods of torture and blood extraction. Often times literally bathing in the blood of her wamphyric opfers, her need for blood was eternal and eventually reckless.

Elizabeth Bathory is regarded by the noctulians in our nexion as the blood mistress incarnate. That is the spirit of Baphomet lived and thrived in her and continues to flourish with the legends and tails of her misdeeds.

By her beauty and sinister cruelty, her lust for blood and death, she has reached the land of dark immortals. She could not be satisfied in her quest for youth, beauty and power which ended with her being charged with over 600 murders. Many had been torn apart so that she may feed her blood lust.

Truly she lived on-top a pyramid of skulls.

We Noctulians admire her cruelty and lust for eternal life and power. As a Bathorian cult, we of the Noctulian Blood Covenant champion and celebrate her cruelty as our wamphyric instincts defined. We strive to mirror her inhumanity and unbiased evil so that we may presence her spirit upon this world so begotten of fake satanists and safety left hand path posers. This our path of Supreme Vampyric Evil results in the separation of the ego and destruction of the human identity, the coagulation of the self in the path of adeptship and attainment of Wyrd.

Elizabeth Bathory is seen as the causal presence of the Noctulian/Wamphyric path in action, and we her children presence her everywhere we go. As our Patron symbol she is revered with much honor and entire rituals are dedicated to her, such our rite of the blood mistress(unpublished for now). These are done in her name.

Our official symbols are used interchangeably, one is her family crest of the house of Escede and the other is the ToB trident with a Noctulius sigil behind it, these reflect our heritage from the horrors of Bathory and the ToB as Dreccian militant wamphryic specters

The Vampyric Milita

Amongst the Noctulian Blood Covenant, we surely take some inspiration from the Drakon Coven and the teachings of the Wamphyric Tradition's forbidden teachings. Though we as a collective aim to obtain a sophisticated trajectory of awakening a gloaming force of undead Vampyric unit of shock troopers who are unwavering in their commitment to the sinister way.

We want Noctulians who are not only willing to shed away their lowly mundane humanity - but as well to those whom are willing to accept a great purge of the proletarian soul, and instead embrace the horrors of the death-ridden path of the Wamphyri.

To obtain this notion, we encourage those within our ranks to get involved with military training via the military, law enforcement, training under the tutelage of former active duty infantrymen. Obtaining this kind of training is beneficial for the aspiring Noctulian, we crave discipline, and we need discipline to prove not only our Noctulian potential but as well to weed out any possible weaklings from infecting our ranks with their mundane influence.

Enduring this deprivation and painful existence is what spawns the very same supernal abilities of the dark gods in our causal existence – by living like the Vampyric entities we essentially become noticed by them, and in our hate-filled frenzy they grant us their infernal blessings.

"Good things come to those who hate"

The horrors of aspiring to become a devil in the flesh is certainly not an easy path. This way of life certainly takes individuals who are strengthened in both physical means and psyche means, which is why we have systems in place to deprave the aspiring Noctulian of any lowly soul and further solidify the foundation to awaken the dark entities that leech onto our animated life force.

The reason for our very own milita is to establish protection of not only our fellow brethren in our Blood Barracks but also as a way of establishing guardians of the nexion itself, we seek to preserve our traditional values, and to do so we need to establish a front of individuals who are willing to give everything to it.

We amongst the Noctulian Blood Covenant are very much aware of the fact that we have enemies around every corner, whether it be Mundane, Magian, various other pseudo-Satanic organizations, or the MORG itself. The point ultimately is the notion that our way of life is under attack by various dubious characters who wish for nothing more but to see us bleed and collapse, in order to protect ourselves from any foreign infiltrators we heavily uphold OPSEC and the utilization of using the system and its mundane laws to protect ourselves, essentially we as Americans seek to utilize the Magian constitution as a means of protection of our personal bodies.

Unlike the mundane and rather idiotic groups such as 764 and NLM, we don't seek to throw our lives away for absolutely no reason or end goal. We amongst the Noctulian Blood Covenant are supporters of real-world evil, but we do not condone nor call for any nonsensical acts of violence that ultimately have no sinister approach.

We seek to have a camaraderie and a potent psychic bond amongst 435, and you certainly can't have that behind bars, we absolutely have zero tolerance for any potential nexion risk. This includes and is not limited to those who attempt to make calls of threats to not only our fellow members but to those who belong to any other association.

Doing acts such as what has been listed will result in an instant burn notice and swift termination, we have a zero bullshit tolerance – of course we don't mind having some fun and enjoyment with our fellow sinister brethren and sisters, but if it gets in the way of our works that's where it becomes a problem. We do not wish to involve ourselves with weak ego clashings and toothless insults.

So in conclusion, and fair warning to our fellow recruits, be the contributor of something significant, not idiocy.

DEMONS WITHIN THAT DISCIPLINED
FLESH

The Aims of NBC

The newfound goals and agenda of the Noctulian Blood Covenant is to establish a Noctulian empire amongst the lesser deplorable world.

Firstly, we seek to expand our Noctulian communion and message to those who are so inclined with the sinister mythos and its traditional approach and Satanic application to life. Through this, we wish to continue the Tempel ov Bloods goal of creating a new being entirely - we will do such via an awakening and realization of the lowly humanity is essentially nothing – and ultimately always has always been, but it doesn't always have to be. Humans can become great once they finally decide to be rid of their humanity.

A dark awakening of new beings is important for the establishment of not only the New Aeon - but as well for the future of our Sinister Tradition. If any human fails to accept the conversion of becoming essentially an alien force summoned from the abyss itself they will be discarded and feasted upon by the apex predators – failing to accept the new empire will result in an industrial-scale feeding.

We also seek to traverse the SevenFold Way as it was intended to be, treacherous, weary, and insightful – the Noctulian Blood Covenant seeks to preserve the beloved sinister tradition by all means necessary.

The philosophy is simple and straightforward, becoming the terror of the Magain forces, we shall and will feast on their blood essence and allow our blood-soaked banner to be staked upon the pyramid of skulls.

We are the real-world evil, we are the boogymen who dwell in the outcast of society, we are the Noctulian Blood Covenant.

Politics in NBC

Politics within the Order of Nine Angles have played a prominent part in aiding in one's sinister dialect and wyrd, though in reality what politics should one aim for?

The ONA in general is apolitical, though it does have national socialist origins, that being Anton long (David Myatt) was originally pertained to associate himself with various National Socialist parties and as well as radical Islamists.

In general consensus the politics you choose is completely up to you.

As seen in the Tempel ov Blood - you come to encounter many practices of various politics, this being and not limited to National Socialism, Communism, Radical Islam, etc etc...

Politics are merely tools that can be weaponized and ultimately utilized for both wyrdful and self-gain, what you choose is ultimately up to you. Though inherently, the Noctulian Blood Covenant adapts more of a National Socialist standing when it comes to the nexion beliefs.

134 yf

SinisterWyrd

Archived from Gore Barracks

National socialism as utilized by the Noctulian Blood Covenant is not about politics as many would argue. Politics are simply causal debates of differing philosophies with no evolutionary basis. Nazism to us is modeled after the honor system of the third reich. We uphold the outlook of the SS above all other constructs. We live in honor of our (acausal) bloodline. The Noctulian Blood line. We strive for greatness and will devour any who stand in our way.

Every preconceived notion about us is so insipidly wrong, so simplified. Race is less of a concern than purity and honor. We strive because we defy, so transgress and eliminate those who seek to dilute us. Power, honor, pride and evil are our way.

We hate because it brings opposition, opposition brings triumph.

Ours is a path of eternal defiance, a true Noctulian approach.

We hail those who came before us, we build upon their noble works.

We are pure in our pride, the pride of our acausal race, our superior race. The race of noctulians.
